

Fruit culture

A workshop conducted by Keith Dickson at the Lincoln Envirotown Community Gardens on Saturday 13th May 2017 from 10.30 to 11.45am

Keith Dickson, our local expert in pip-fruit production, will give his annual presentation. This year he will focus on some key questions, including:

- How do I match a certain root-stock with my soil and the size of my garden?
- How can I maintain high quality and high yields of fruit on my trees every year?
- What nutrients do fruit trees need?
- When should I apply nutrients to fruit trees?
- Should I short prune or short prune?

Plenty of time will be available for your questions and general discussion.
